

Divide Overflow

The divide overflow condition occurs when

- 1) The number of bits is twice as the number of bits in the divisor
 - 2) The higher order half bits of the dividend have more than or equal to the value of the total bits of the divisor
 - 3) The divide overflow also checks that whether the divisor is zero or not
- All these conditions are checked before division process starts